Membership Regulations

Membership application and election

An application for membership may be made by the completion of an approved Membership Application Form and the submission of such Form to the Institute's Executive.

Membership Application Forms must contain an applicant's name, his or her address, a disclosure of any prior record of misconduct or disciplinary proceedings, a signed or accepted declaration, the payment of the prescribed application fee and the current subscription fee for the Associate grade of membership, as notified on the Institute's website from time to time.

The Executive reserves the right to ask an applicant for further and better particulars of his or her application and/or the necessary amount of payment in settlement of the prescribed application fee and the current subscription fee.

All completed applications will be reviewed in accordance with the Institute's approved procedure, as published on its website from time to time; and in particular, whether an individual applicant meets the minimum criteria for membership at a particular grade of membership of the Institute.

Within five working days from the receipt of a complete Membership Application Form, the Executive will either send an acknowledgement of the application to the applicant or, inform the applicant of the outcome of his or her application or, if necessary, request further and better particulars of the application.

An applicant will be awarded the highest grade of membership based on the information provided. If the grade awarded is higher than the grade of Associate, the applicant will be notified in writing and within thirty (30) days of such notification, an applicant may elect to accept the grade of membership awarded or the grade of Associate. If an applicant elects to accept the grade higher than Associate awarded, he or she will be liable for the appropriate subscription fee for the grade awarded.

An applicant may appeal against a decision regarding his or her eligibility for membership of the Institute, in writing, to the Executive, within thirty (30) days of being notified of a decision on his or her application. The appeal will be dealt with in accordance with the Institute's approved procedure, as published on its website from time to time.

If, for whatever reason an application for membership is unsuccessful, the accompanying payment less the non-refundable application fee, as published on its website from time to time, will be refunded on request to the Executive.

Criteria and qualifications for membership

The minimum criteria for eligibility as an Associate are that an applicant must have either:

- passed one of the Institute's Introductory Assessments; or
- completed an authorised equivalent; or
- through practical experience, acquired the necessary level of knowledge and provides relevant evidence to that effect with the application.

The minimum criteria for eligibility as a Member are that an applicant must have either:

- passed modules 1 and 2 of the Institute's training and education programmes; or
- passed the Institute's Mediation Accreditation Assessment; or
- completed an authorised equivalent.

The minimum criteria for eligibility as a Fellow are that an applicant must be an existing Member and have either:

- passed modules 3 and 4 of the CI Arb's training and education programmes; or
- completed the International Diploma in Mediation; or
- completed an authorised equivalent; and
- have passed a Peer Interview in accordance with the Institute's approved procedure, as published on its website from time to time.

An Associate, Member or Fellow who is no longer engaged in dispute resolution as an advisor or Practitioner on a fee-earning basis may apply to be transferred to Retired status.

Any Associate, Member or Fellow may resign as a member of the Institute at any time of their choosing by writing to the Executive but, in doing so, must return to the Institute all relevant membership certificates in their possession. No subscription fee, or parts thereof, will be returned to a member when tendering his or her resignation.

Members who resign will not be entitled to use or access any Ordinary Privileges of Membership.

Ordinary privileges of membership

In accordance with Bye-law 9.10, members with an active status and who are in good financial standing in respect of subscriptions to the Institute are entitled to:

- receive invitations to and vote at general meetings; and
- signify their membership of the Institute by use of the appropriate designatory letters (ACI Arb, MCI Arb or FCI Arb), or the public display or presentation of a Certificate of Membership or by wearing or using an appropriate item of Institute merchandise; and
- receive or be given access to the Institute's journal; and
- be given access to the Members' Section of the Institute's website; and
- attend members' social functions and events; and
- stand for election to an official office of the Institute, branch or chapter; and
- access the Institute's legal advisory service and Information and Resource Centre; and take advantage of any product or services, provided by third parties at a discounted rate for members.
